CLINICAL TRIALS IN DENTISTRY

Latest innovation in Edra's dentistry products, Clinical Trials in Dentistry is the scientific journal in the English language that publishes clinical trials in all the specialist areas, meticulous articles by experts in different areas of stomato-odontology.

The aim is to create knowledge for professionals in all areas of the dental sector, where current topics and points for clinical consideration are addressed.

International visibility makes the following possible:

- Reaching a high quality, highly profiled target audience;
- Provision of a credible showcase for gold standard thought leaders.
- Participation in a worldwide project for scientific advancement
